

Collection Statement

You have rights to access the credit information that we hold about you, to correct your credit-related information and how to make a complaint to us about our handling of your credit information. Our Credit Information Policy includes details about how you may exercise such rights.

For more information about how we manage your credit information, please see our Credit Information Policy (available here).

If you apply for credit, or are guaranteeing the credit application of another person or company, for product purchases with Wurth Australia, we will collect personal and credit information from you such as your contact details, information in relation to your business, assets and credit history for the purposes of considering and / or managing your application or whether we will accept that guarantee. If you do not provide all the information requested, we may be unable to process your application.

We may disclose your personal and credit information to our related companies and third parties for the purposes of delivering our products and/or services to you. Some of these related companies may be located overseas (see below).

Information provided to us may be held on a server operated by any of our related companies in the Wurth Group. This information may also be held by any company overseas that is engaged by a Wurth Group to host, maintain or update any of our websites or databases. The countries in which your personal information may be held include Germany. By making an application for credit, or proposing to be a guarantor in any credit arrangement, you consent to the storage of your information by the Wurth Group and their contractors providing hosting or other web site or database related services.

Please refer to the Wurth Australia's Credit Information Policy for more information about how you may access and seek correction of your credit eligibility information held by Wurth Australia. The Credit Information Policy will detail how you can complain about a breach of your rights under the Privacy Act 1988 or any of their respective regulations and applicable credit reporting Codes and how Wurth Australia will deal with such a complaint.

Please refer to Wurth Australia's Privacy Policy for full details as to how your personal information will be handled, including how you can access and seek correction of your personal information, how you can complain about a breach of privacy laws and how Wurth Australia will deal with any complaint.

Contact Details

The contact details for Wurth Australia's Privacy Officer are set out below:

Mail: 2/1 Healey Road Dandenong South Victoria 3175

Phone: (03) 8788 1111

Fax: (03) 9706 4321

Email: privacy@wurth.com.au